TWO EXCELLENT PAPERS ON UTAH

By Eight Grade Students, Read at the "Utah Day" Services Held in this City April 25th.

What Utah Day Means to Me

Every man or woman, boy or girl in this state should be proud to say that Utah is their home. What a world of meaning that one word holds! Home! How the very sound makes one's heart swell and emotions rise as thoughts pass through one's mind. To reflect on the meaning of home our mind pictures a place where love abides peace and plenty reign, and everything vies with each other to show its happiness.

Taking these thoughts into consideration is not Utah a place of love, peace, plenty, and happiness?
Ask yourselves the question: How does Utah rank in these particular things? I am sure you will say that Utah ranks among the first. There is more love and peace, and loyalty among Utah's people than in the greater number of our states and countries.

"Breathe there a man with soul so dead,

Who never to himself has said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart has never within him burned

As homeward he his footsteps turned From wandering on a foreign strand?"

Breathes there a son or a daughter of Utah who is not proud of the fact, and who will stand in defense of their state and its opportunities as long as life shall last?
Utah is a state of many resources, many of which are not fully developed. Taking into consideration the fact of the time when the state was first settled, and then look at the numerous industries which have been taken up and then own up to your consciences that Utah has progressed very rapidly.

Utah is very young and therefore is undeveloped. She has been under harm on account of her position and surroundings. Railroads were slow in making their appearance, and thus hindered in the industrial growth; but her never tiring men and women have kept working, and at last Utah is making a name for herself. May that name keep growing until Utah is known far and near and in all portions of the earth.

What about Utah's resources? She has many of them and some of them are leading the world. Take for instance the copper and marble. Utah has great future before her, for these industries will be strengthened, and Utah will continue to grow.

Think of Utah's men and women.
Upright, and pure, trustworthy sons and daughters.

Utah furnishes some of the world's best learned men. Men who know and understand the opportunities of Utah and work for their welfare.
Men who have been taught in Utah schools and by Utah experience for the purpose of teaching Utah boys and girls who are to become the builders of Utah's fame.

Now, to come to the purpose of Utah Day, let us reflect and consider what Utah means to us and then sing our praise for Utah.

If we respect and revere a man or woman who have proven themselves to be worthy of praise, let us not be behind in the praise of our native state. Unfold the banner of freedom and let its emblem float in the breeze, as if to protect and shelter our beloved land.

On this day which is given to us to tell the praise and glory of Utah, let us lift our voices and send the beloved name throughout the land until the echoes reverberate over hills and valleys and fill every heart with a love sincere and pure and everlasting.

And Utah's sons and daughters will lead the world for patriotism and devotion.

"The patriotism and devotion which have made possible the dramatic story of our state's growth, should quicken the hearts of boys and girls who are to be the men and women of a great tomorrow."

What Utah Day Means to Me

Utah Day means to me a day when I am right and proud to meet together for the purpose of celebrating the progress and development of a section of country which was at one time considered barren and empty, but which is now a land of great resources; a land that has within itself all that is necessary when fully developed to supply the needs of its people and make it independent of any other country on earth.

A country which has by the industry and intelligence of its people been brought to the present condition, as to rank with the best among the states of the Union as a great progressive commonwealth; a land of great opportunities and natural resources; a land that has within itself all that is necessary
on earth.

Utah Day means to me a day when we should get together and talk over and plan how the continued development of all our great natural resources may be brought about not forgetting to first begin with those natural resources that we have right at our home.

Utah Day means to me a day when we should resolve to bury all animosities, forget all past differences and unite with one accord in putting our shoulders to the wheel of the car of progress and by a united effort make this first "Utah Day" one to be remembered and in after years a day to be looked back upon as the beginning of that great forward movement that is necessary to lead to the fulfilment and fulfillment of Utah's great destiny.

The preparation for Utah Day has been a revelation of knowledge to me. Here in our own county under our own city lies miles and miles of coal which would supply the needs of the western states for many years. Millions of tons of salt skirt the coast of our inland sea.

Nearly half the state is mountainous and almost forbidden mountains is mineral wealth not equalled by any other state in the union.
One of the greatest iron and steel
